A
I've seen the bright lights of Memphis,
E
and the Commodore Hotel
E7 E E7 A
And underneath a street lamp, I met a southern belle
D A E
Oh, she took me to the river, where she cast her spell
E7 E E7 A
And in that southern moonlight, she sang this song so well

A E
If you'll be my Dixie chicken I'll be your Tennessee lamb
E7 E A D * A
And we can walk together down in Dixie land
E7 A D * A
Down in Dixie land

A . . .

A E
We made all the hotspots, my money flowed like wine

Then the low-down southern whiskey, yea, began to fog my
mind

And I don't remember church bells, or the money I put down

On the white picket fence and boardwalk

On the house at the end of town

Oh, but boy do I remember the strain of her refrain

And the nights we spent together

And the way she called my name

If you'll be my Dixie chicken I'll be your Tennessee lamb

And we can walk together down in Dixieland

Down in Dixieland

A . . .

Well, many years since she ran away

Yes that guitar player sure could play

She always liked to sing along

She always handy with a song

But then one night at the lobby of the Commodore Hotel

I chanced to meet a bartender who said he knew her well

D A E
And as he handed me a drink he began to hum a song
 E7 E E7 E A
And all the boys there, at the bar, began to sing along

A E
If you'll be my Dixie chicken I'll be your Tennessee lamb

E7 E A D A
And we can walk together down in Dixieland

E7 A D A
Down in Dixieland

A . . .

* It has been suggested that E would sound better than D in Dixieland.

 Alternate:

Capo II

E = D
E7 = D7
A = G
D = C
